

Anxiety High as Egypt Forms New Army President to Meet Congressmen on Suez

No Special Session Is In Plans Responsibility Is His Concern

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today President Eisenhower called a Sunday meeting with congressional leaders on the Suez Canal crisis because the President "feels very strongly about sharing responsibility with Congress, particularly if there should be any risk of hostilities."

"Dulles said, however, 'I don't see anything in the situation now which would suggest that a special session of Congress would be required.'"

THE SECRETARY talked briefly with reporters at Washington National Airport before taking off (10:30 a. m. EDT) for New York to meet with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations and U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

The luncheon meeting was arranged for a general discussion of Middle Eastern problems including Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal.

Eisenhower yesterday called congressional leaders to meet at the White House Sunday for a report on the canal dispute. This stirred speculation about the possibility of a special session of Congress later on, or at least the serious consideration of the possibility.

EARLIER, assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder had declined to comment on the possibility of a special session. So had Vice President Nixon after a 30-minute meeting with Eisenhower at the White House.

While Dulles' answers to questions did not rule out the possibility of a special session if the

Dairymen's League: 'Milk on Way Up'

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Housewives take note: Milk prices "are on the way up."

That's the word from Stanley Benham, president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Assn.

Benham said yesterday he did not expect any "great increase" in the return to farmers but, he asserted, "the bottom has been reached and we can anticipate a slow recovery."

Water service to consumers in the town of Ulster will not be available until the Lake Katrine pumping station is placed in operation, "probably in five or six weeks," Supervisor Percy Bush said today.

The supervisor asked the public "to be patient" in their requests that homes be hooked up for service.

He said the town is unable to flush the lines at present "and consumers might find dirt in the lines if their homes were hooked up to the mains now."

"We haven't been able to make any tests on the lines as yet," Supervisor Bush said, "because we are unable to do so until the Lake Katrine pumping station is completed, which will probably be five or six weeks."

"The contractor, Baker Brothers, of Elmsford, are now laying the mains and the curbside boxes are being installed," he said, "and we ask the public's cooperation until such time as the mains are ready."

The supervisor said consumers would be notified when the mains are available for service.

Permits to have the lines hooked up must be secured from the town clerk's office or the water superintendent of the district, who has not yet been appointed, he said.

Truman Seeking Harmony, Likely to Back Adlai Stevenson Claims Votes to Win

Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson today surged toward his second Democratic presidential nomination with former President Harry S. Truman possibly poised to join his legions.

Truman, the stellar attraction of a pre-convention show yesterday, which featured the civil rights controversy, kept friends and critics alike guessing as to the candidate he said he will be ready to support tomorrow or Sunday.

But the consensus of influential politicians—whatever their choice for the No. 1 nominee—agreed that Truman could endorse only the leading candidate, Stevenson's supporters claim, with great fervor, that they have 600 of the 688½ votes needed for nomination.

Few seasoned politicians thought Truman would choose to risk his place in political history by backing a minority—and possibly a losing—candidate like Gov. Averell Harriman of New York. Harriman's friends clung nevertheless to the hope that they would get a favorable nod from the former president.

Just how much influence Truman might have on the convention opening Monday was debatable. No one, including Truman, knew how many of the 1372 delegates votes he could influence. But neither side wanted to take any chances.

There was a careful assaying of the situation. Supporters of Stevenson and Harriman filed steadily into Truman's plush hotel suite to pay court. And the 72-year-old former chief executive with no disguise of the fact at all, was enjoying his role of possible kingmaker.

Beyond this, however, Truman exhibited the canny kind of political acumen that has made him the enigma of the professionals who hope to run the party convention.

Truman told the big secret to no one—not even the closest friends of his halcyon days of White House occupancy.

But the summation of those who talked to the former president was that he is interested primarily in party unity. He would get only dissension and disunity, these experts agreed, if he endorsed anybody but Stevenson—no matter how reluctant he might be to take that step.

Col. Jacob M. Arvey, Illinois national committeeman, who spent an hour with Truman without learning where the former president stands, said it doesn't make any difference anyway. He said Stevenson now can get the nomination no matter what Truman says.

Harriman Says Moderation Means Defeat
Ave Predicts Own Nomination

En Route with Harriman to Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman headed "on to Chicago" today with a prediction he would win the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I think I am going to win for the cause I represent," he told newsmen during an overnight stop in Buffalo.

The ardent exponent of the New Deal-Fair Deal philosophies of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman was due in Chicago by plane in mid-morning for the Democratic National Convention starting Monday.

The Harriman forces have argued that Adlai Stevenson, front runner for the nomination, is a moderate. Stevenson has retorted that Harriman has no

"exclusive rights" on the New Deal-Fair Deal philosophy.

The New York governor, in a speech before a Negro audience last night, hit out again at moderation as the way to defeat. He also accused President Eisenhower of failing to exercise leadership in desegregation problems.

"Eisenhower is blocking progress in the middle of the road," said Harriman. "We must push him out of it."

Harriman addressed about 1,000 persons attending the 50th annual convention of Alpha Phi Alpha, a national collegiate fraternity, whose membership of 25,000 consists mostly of Negroes.

Harriman proposed that "we move forward to eliminate racial discrimination in the Eisenhower administration's legislative program for next year."

President Eisenhower's committee on small business yesterday handed in 14 recommendations it had adopted unanimously. Nine of the proposals—in the tax, antitrust, financing and other fields—would require congressional action. Other suggestions of the group are aimed at getting small firms a bigger slice of government business.

Receiving the seven-man committee's proposals, Eisenhower said he would give them the "prompt and favorable consideration they deserve."

He said he would follow them up via action within the executive departments and in putting together his legislative program for the new Congress. Regardless of the outcome of the November presidential election, the Eisenhower administration is scheduled to send Congress in January proposals for new legislation.

The cabinet committee—headed by Dr. Arthur F. Burns, Eisenhower's top economic adviser—suggested a multi-pronged plan that would yield small business about 600 million dollars in tax relief the first year, about

Over 300 4-H Boys and Girls To Have Entries at 1956 Fair

The largest 4-H Club exhibit ever shown in Ulster county is anticipated at this year's Ulster County Fair August 15-16 at Forsyth Park with more than 300 girls and boys participating.

The group award system will be used in judging projects and each exhibit will receive a ribbon denoting excellent, good or worthy. A total of $5,000 will be awarded in premium money.

According to E. R. Bower, Ulster county 4-H Club agent, the largest display of cattle and sheep on record will be shown by the department at the fair.

Other livestock exhibits include rabbits, goats and poultry. Dairy showmanship contests and the special 4-H horsemanship will feature the livestock demonstration.

Homemaking exhibits will include baked goods, all types of clothing from aprons to suits and dresses, as well as home furnishings. A homemaking skills contest will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 15, at which time 4-H members will demonstrate their sewing skills. Crafts and hobbies will demonstrate how 4-Hers use their leisure time.

At 7 p. m. Wednesday a 4-H dress revue will be held. All girls who received blue ribbons at the county dress revue last spring have been invited to participate. Miss Emma Miller, 4-H Club summer assistant, will be in charge.

A sale of baked goods will be held after the dress revue. Cakes, pies, cookies, yeast breads, quick breads and muffins will be offered.

A sheep-shearing demonstration and a sheep blocking demonstration will be given by members taking a sheep raising project. Other demonstrations will be presented on a variety of homemaking and agricultural topics.

Twenty-five 4-H Club booths will present projects and activities of the organization in Ulster county.

Boats Restricted

The entire river area parallel to Kingston Point Beach will be roped off Sunday afternoon because of the Elks Club long distance swimming meet, according to Primo Montafia, Elks youth program chairman.

All boats are warned to stay out of the area starting at 1 p. m. Ropes are to be strung 20 to 30 feet from the shore line across the entire bay.

Practices Baking—Susan Keizer, 11, a 4-H Club member from Port Ewen, practices her baking skill by making a cake. A member of the Port Ewen Homemaking Club, Susan will be one of the 300 4-H Club members exhibiting projects at the Ulster County Fair in Forsyth Park and Dietz Stadium on August 15 and 16.

Hold Little Hope for 260 Miners

Marcielle, Belgium, Aug. 10 (AP)—Weary rescue teams continued their struggle today to reach 260 men trapped for more than 40 hours deep in the burning Bois Du Casier coal mine. There was little hope any would be found alive.

Rescue work centered on reaching a passage at the 3,300 foot level where 130 men had been working when the fire broke out. Apparently the other 130 miners at other levels already were given up for lost.

Hope surged through the crowds of waiting relatives today when a rescue worker came up from the 2,700-foot level and said, "we have seen small animals alive there. They were either rats or moles."

So far the mercy teams have been unable to probe deeper into the workings because of intense heat from the underground blaze.

The Belgian radio reported that two Belgian boys, 14 and 15, were among those trapped below with their fathers. The broadcast said a British engineer also was trapped. Many of the other miners were Italian immigrants.

There were rumors that rescue workers had counted more than 90 bodies in various galleries leading from the smoke-filled shaft, but there was no confirmation.

Nine bodies and six injured miners have been removed from the mine.

Rescue efforts were balked at almost every turn by continuing fires, heat, blinding smoke, and carbon dioxide gas. Six-man crews went into the mine in relays for two-hour periods.

They reported the heat was intense and fires were raging as strong as ever despite hundreds of tons of water being poured into the workings.

An effort to cut through a reinforced concrete wall from a new shaft into a corridor off the burning shaft was abandoned because of the heat.

Hundreds of relatives and friends maintained their vigil at the mine for the second night. King Baudouin paid his second visit to the disaster scene early today.

The fire started from a short circuit. Flames ate through an elevator cable after 23 men had escaped and sent the lift plunging to the bottom of the shaft. Other escape routes also were cut off.

Doctor Is Killed In Middletown Ambulance Crash

Middletown, Aug. 10 (AP)—A 32-year-old Italian doctor was killed last night and two ambulance attendants were injured critically when their vehicle and a truck collided.

The accident occurred on Route 17 near here while the ambulance was en route to pick up a heart attack victim at Wurtsboro.

Killed was Dr. Antonio Verrecchie, a native of Campobasso, Italy, who came to this country in January, 1955.

Injured were Joseph Cole, 25, the ambulance driver; Rudolph Bee, 21, hospital orderly, and James Pont, 34, of 400 Grainsbury Ave., Haddonfield, N. J., driver of the truck.

Cole and Bee were in critical condition at Horton Memorial Hospital. Pont was hospitalized but his injuries were described as not serious. Pont's helper, identified as James Bull, 33, of 1128 Sycamore St., Camden, N. J., was released after treatment.

State police said the truck, loaded with automobile tires, had begun to turn from the northbound lane of the highway to its southbound lane when the ambulance, northbound, came over a hill and was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision.

Ike's Program May Give Tax Cut to Small Firms

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—A cabinet committee's recommendations for aiding small business, through tax relief and other measures, may find their way into the Eisenhower administration's legislative program for next year.

Delay Made Again on Troop Lift

Britain Rejects Shifting Parley

London, Aug. 10 (AP)—Britain today brushed aside Soviet Russia's bid to recast and postpone next week's London parley on the Suez canal crisis.

This was officially indicated by the news chief of the Foreign Office after high-level talks between London, Washington and Paris. It was later amplified by qualified officials who declined to be named.

AT THE SAME time Prime Minister Eden's government, for the second successive day, slowed down its troop lift to the Mediterranean.

Eden and his military chiefs ordered a second 24-hour postponement of the airlift of crack infantrymen to the Suez area. Some troopship moves also were held up.

The slowdown came as Egypt proclaimed formation of a new "National Liberation Army" and world anxiety mounted over the possibilities of a blowup.

THE LATEST objection to Britain's show of force in the Mediterranean came from the desert kingdom of Libya, on Egypt's western flank. Informed diplomats said that Arab state, which Britain helped to create, was understood to have refused a British request for additional facilities under the Libyan-British bases treaty to accommodate troops that might have to be used in an emergency. The British Foreign Office refused to comment.

In Istanbul, Libyan Premier Mustafa Ben Halim announced his country's support of Egypt's seizure of the Suez canal. The premier, who is visiting Turkey, told reporters "no one has the right to attack (Egyptian President) Nasser for the take-over."

Russian proposals to postpone, enlarge and change the scope of the London talks came last night in a public statement and a still-secret note to Britain. The two together comprised the Soviet Union's answer to Britain's invitation to attend the slated Aug. 15 conference.

THE FOREIGN OFFICE spokesman, Sir George Young, told reporters he "would not lend any weight" to the possible postponement of the talks to late August, as suggested by Russia.

Authoritative government officials said later Young's statement means the conference will go on as planned, whether Russia and Egypt attend or not.

The British still were trying to figure whether the Russian reply amounted to agreement to attend the talks even if Moscow's objections are not met.

Young declined direct comment on the substance of Russia's arguments beyond saying the British do not agree with them.

THE RUSSIANS set forth a dozen objections to the manner in which Britain has sought to organize the talks. They suggested Cairo would be a better meeting place than London, that the talks should be deferred until late August and that 22 other countries, including Red China, Communist East Germany and all Middle East Arab states, should be invited.

THE STATEMENT indicated the Soviet government will send a representative—presumably Foreign Minister Dmitri Sholov—but did not make clear whether he will be on hand regardless of fulfillment of the Soviet reservations.

Eden lunched with Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, who arrived from a visit in Washington.

Menzies told newsmen Australians believe Nasser's nationalization of the canal was wrong from beginning to end and "it must be resisted."

Sept. 8 Deadline On Opposition in Carvel Shop Case

Those opposed to the application of the Carvel Corp., to operate an ice cream store on the Monroe Southard property, Foxhall and Albany avenues will be given until Sept. 8 to file complaints or opposing opinions, Attorney Joseph Avis, local zoning board chairman said today.

The board, several weeks ago, ruled in favor of the corporation's application to be permitted to construct and operate an ice cream store on the site, and it took final action on the application at a recent meeting permitting 30 days in which anyone aggrieved by the decision may file complaints, or present reasons for opposing the decision.

The board decided in favor of the corporation after considerable airing of the application, and following rejection by the Common Council of the initial bid to use the property for the stated purpose. As a designated non-conforming site, the property has been used for many years for the operation of a gasoline service station.

An opinion by the zoning board stressed the former use and noted that the areas around the site was largely business and industrial in character.

The zoning board reserved decision on the application of Harold Kidd, operator of a radio shop on Liberty street, and Worley J. Sturgill, of Liberty street, to operate a radio and television repair shop in the former Jones Dairy building on Shufeldt street.

Suez crisis should become imminent—it did indicate that the President and Dulles are not thinking in terms of that kind of development just now.

DULLES said: "We are making our plans on the assumption there will be a peaceful solution."

Dulles will attend in London next Thursday the conference of 20 to 24 nations invited by Britain to seek a peaceful Suez solution through creation of international machinery to control the Suez.

The U. S. government, it was learned today, has circulated to the countries which will attend the London conference a proposal for an international authority with complete control over the use of the Suez and its development, fees and finances.

THE KEY to the success of the whole undertaking is whether Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser will accept internationalization of the canal operation even though he would retain ownership.

When Dulles was asked about the special session talk he said there was presently nothing "which would now suggest the need of a special session of Congress."

"As you know," Dulles said, "the President feels very strongly about sharing responsibilities with Congress, particularly if there should be any risk of hostilities. That's the reason for the meeting Sunday."

Huling Apartments, Historic Site, Sold to Two Attorneys

Sale of the Huling Apartments, 3 North Front street, to attorneys, Hubert A. Richter and Seymour Werbalowsky, was announced today by Chester A. Lyons who owned the property.

The sale of the historical building had been rumored throughout the city for some time.

The attorneys said they had no definite plans for the building, "although they had been contacted by various commercial interests."

They said, "Although this property has existed through most of Kingston's history, it will continue to play an important part in the development of the uptown business district, especially with the proposed new street through the lowlands and the proposed arterial route."

The building, according to a history of the city published in 1888, is one of the last remaining original houses on North Front street.

It was built in 1802 by John Tremper, located a few feet to the east of the ruins of the Johannes Wynkoop house, which was burned in the Revolutionary War.

In 1820 it was occupied by John C. Tillotson and owned by Mrs. Tillotson, daughter of Chancellor Livingston who was the reigning authority in this area for many years.

It is also believed that the building served as one of the original stockades protecting the city.

The sale was negotiated through Charles P. Jensen, representing Gross Realty, of 2 John street.

Albert Kurdt, co-chairman of the food committee, said today there will be continuous servings from 4:30 to 7:30 p. m., and in the event of rain the barbecue will be held indoors at Forsyth Park.

Rotarians, who plan, prepare and serve the barbecue, will donate proceeds to the club's youth project.

The Kingston club's share of the cost is $2,320. Half of this has been paid from club funds and half will be raised by special projects such as the barbecue and radio auction.

Police Detail Rescues Boy From Ledge

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—A five-man police detail performed some hazardous climbing last night to rescue an injured 14-year-old boy trapped on a narrow ledge.

The boy, Steve Auerbach (140 Cabrini Blvd.), was trying out new hiking boots when he started to climb a steep, 150-foot bluff in Washington Heights. The bluff overlooks Riverside Drive. The boy was more than half-way up the hill when he started down. Then he slipped and fell to a two-foot-wide ledge about 75 feet above the roadway.

A passerby saw the youth's predicament and called police. The five patrolmen inched along the narrow ledge and brought the boy to safety. The rescue work was done with the aid of searchlights.

Young Auerbach was taken to a hospital suffering from a leg injury.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

Today, the conservative hunger for bread, not cake; for beans, not caviar; for the punch without the froth.

Surely, we need a publication with National stature and five million readers devoted to Free Enterprise, which means individual freedom. Several have been hatched; few survived. So far, none speaks with words "that bounce along the sidewalk," with the homely, old-fashioned feeling that made this land a Gibraltar.

MR. HUTTON

conservative magazine, of ruggedness and simplicity. Is that too much to hope?

Up to now, big business has been too busy appeasing labor politicians. They save the country daily—at luncheons and dinners, but as for putting hard cash and hard work into the fight—too busy! Let the little fellows do all the fighting.

This leaves me, neighbor, with an empty feeling—they mean well. They polish off the foe mightily with words!!

But we hunger for bread, not cake; for action, not words.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 10—I have continually stressed in this column that the continuation of present prosperity depends upon the consumers, or customers of your local stores. So long as retail sales remain high, all is well, and husbands will continue employed; but when you begin to restrict buying, then retailers buy less from manufacturers. The manufacturers then begin to lay off their workmen, and retail sales are further reduced—the "vicious circle." Hence, the business cycle—so-called—turns downward until we have a depression.

RETAIL SALES and employment have been kept up by extensive local and national advertising. The latter has been greatly aided by photography, color printing, radio, and now TV. Unless something unexpected happens to shake confidence, retail sales will be further stimulated by air conditioning and self-service. Some day a little oxygen will be fed into air-conditioning systems, which will be a great blessing to all.

I, however, wish to refer this week to "pills" which are being used so unnecessarily by wage-workers, many of whom leave home without a real breakfast. The "coffee break" is the most apparent development in this line. The milk and sugar are real food; but the coffee is only a temporary stimulant lasting at most one-half hour. Those working on continuous-line production—who must keep up with the speed of the bells—often use dextroamphetamine. These tend to keep one awake and supply "pep." They don't work with all people who really need better meals and more sleep.

BUT CONSIDER the following statistics on pills which are being used today—not by sick people—but those who are employed in factories, retail stores and offices. The following figures have been supplied by Dr. Henry van Zile Hyde of the U. S. Public Health Service at Washington. He says: Each year we dose ourselves with about 400 tons of barbiturates (a nerve drug), 34 tons of amphetamine a "pep-up" drug, and 7,000 tons of aspirin made into 19 billion five-grain tablets! In addition, there are billions of laxative pills sold. Much of this tonnage is consumed by tired mothers preparing to shopping at a supermarket or some other retail store. The final step may be to give pills, free, to customers as they enter the store! Such pills would keep them longer on their aching feet and give them courage to buy more goods. All of these stimulants are in addition to the highballs and doses of whiskey or brandy taken regularly at home.

THE TAKING of such pills—like buying on installment—may not be harmful if properly controlled. It, however, is dangerous for wage-workers, consumers, or retailers to depend too much upon such artificial stimulants. Not only does their use serve only temporarily, but it is a dangerous and unnatural way to get free from pain, fatigue, and other troubles. Those depending upon such should go to a physician for a "check-up" and learn how to eliminate the cause of their troubles.

Surely the prosperity of the nation as well as our own well-being could be benefited by the regular eating of more good food. Coffee will not take the place of oatmeal; ice cream sodas will not serve for healthy lunches; while hurried dinners or suppers may keep you alive, but not prosperous. We cannot get on with scant and hurried meals any more than a furnace can provide power without sufficient coal or oil.

Although girls' beautiful complexions are out of my field, yet I am told "on authority" that the money spent on cosmetics would give far more rosy cheeks if spent on more good food, fresh air, pure drinking water—with more sleep. Let me further remind readers of the old question: "How does the word 'diet' read when we leave the 't' off?"

ALTHOUGH I AM an optimist on oils, chemicals, and certain other groups of stocks, yet I have continually kept in mind that some "unexpected event" may at any time happen. I wrote a column on this subject a few weeks ago. The recent sudden taking over of the Suez Canal by the new Egyptian Government is an illustration of what I had in mind. Even in these good days this sudden event caused several billion dollars to be knocked off the value of oil stocks and other internationally owned securities within a few hours.

We are now living in a small world. Whatever our religion, color, or nationality, we are brothers, together economically. Every investor in the world has lost money by this act of the Egyptian Government. These investors are asking themselves: If this can be done to one of the oldest and most conservative investments, Suez Canal stock, why could it not be done to many other "blue chips"? However, all "unexpected events" are not bearish. Some are very bullish, such as the recent sudden adjournment of Congress until next January.

MATTHEW H. HERZOG

The death of Matthew H. Herzog is a grievous loss to the community. His public service, often unbeknown to the general public, in countless ways made this city a better place.

In every community there are men who render faithful service over a long period of years. Mr. Herzog was one of these citizens. Aside from making a living, he had a profound love for this community and a determination to advance its fortunes in every way possible.

His civic-mindedness was of a depth that meant liberality with his own time, interest and devotion.

A public-spirited citizen, he had faith in the community and contributed to all its worthwhile undertakings.

THEY WENT BEFORE

While we who live in the temperate zone are enjoying the fruits of summer, hardy men from 11 nations are living in cold and abiding darkness in the Antarctic. They are engaged in what Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd calls "the biggest assault ever made on the secrets of the white continent, nearly twice the size of the United States, that covers the bottom of our planet."

The Antarctic, even now, is not for men who are soft in body or spirit. Yet perhaps the most striking thing about the present expeditions is that they are being conducted in relative comfort. "Around them," Byrd writes in the National Geographic, "rages the worst weather in the world; yet in their snug huts in the snow the men enjoy daily cold running water, soft drinks, and steaks to order."

As our generation makes its bid for the Antarctic's secrets, it behooves us to think of Scott and Shackleton and all those others who persevered against great hardships in the early years of this century. Much was learned from their efforts. Had they not gone before, present expeditions would have far less chance of success.

IN GOD WE TRUST

Though Congress has been dilatory in some ways, it has succeeded in giving the United States an official motto: In God We Trust.

The phrase has been a familiar one for many years. Congress voted to permit its use on certain coins as early as 1865, and in 1908 it decreed that the motto must be used on some coins. Only a year ago, the legislators took the additional step of requiring its use on all currency.

Now it is to be the nation's official watchword: In God We Trust. These are noble words to inscribe on our banners, but it is essential to remember that words alone do not justify a cause. In God We Trust will remain a worthy motto for the American people only as long as we make a sincere effort to exemplify it in our lives. The words are nothing and less than nothing without suitable spirit and acts.

SAFETY CAN BE BOUGHT

The ironical fact about America's frightful record of death on the roads is that it could be almost completely remedied.

There's only one catch. Absolute public support is needed, and that means an aroused public opinion.

Experts meeting in Chicago at a recent conference called by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety agreed that this was the number one objective.

Commenting on the session, W. Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City (Iowa) Globe-Gazette and a member of the committee emphasized that real safety could be had.

One of the things people would have to be willing to do is pick up the check for expensive, safety-engineered modern highways.

"If we're sincere in our willingness to pay the price of safety," he said, "we'll measure the outlay for modernized highways against the billions of dollars represented in our preventable highway slaughter each passing year."

It's something to think about next time you're out in a Sunday afternoon traffic jam.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
A DEMOCRATIC VICE PRESIDENT

The Democrats will have a more difficult time choosing a Vice President than the Republicans. Harold Stassen fixed it for the Republicans. He has practically made it impossible for anyone to run against Richard Nixon without taking on guilt by association with Stassen. Even if Sherman Adams were nominated, it would look like a double cross and would give the conservative members of the party an excuse for staying home on Election Day.

Many Democrats assume that Estes Kefauver has made a deal with Adlai Stevenson and that as part of that deal, Kefauver will run for Vice President. That would annoy Harry Truman but he would not display his annoyance in public. It would also raise the ire of Carmine DeSapio. But no practical politician discounts the Stevenson-Kefauver deal and its probable effects on the Vice Presidential nomination.

Two Roman Catholics are in the Vice Presidential contest, Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Mayor Robert Wagner of New York. Since Al Smith ran for President in 1928 and was badly defeated by Herbert Hoover, it has been taken for granted that no Roman Catholic could be elected to the Presidency because of bigotry. Political prognosticators suggest that such bigotry and bias have died down and that a Catholic could now be elected to high office. As in voting to elect a Vice President, there would be an advantage to latching on to the Kennedy exchequer. Also, Kennedy is fairly popular and has displayed some literary talents.

Besides, the two who are mentioned have nothing to lose. Kennedy will remain in the Senate if he is defeated; Wagner will continue as Mayor of New York if he is defeated. Kennedy's father, the former Ambassador to Great Britain, is an enormously rich man and, at a time when the Democrats are short of money, there would be an advantage to latching on to the Kennedy exchequer. Also, Kennedy is fairly popular and has displayed some literary talents.

Robert Wagner is Mayor of a city of 8,000,000 people, as difficult and complex a position as any man can find. Why he should want to give that up to spend four years pounding a gavel in the Senate can only be explained by the American disease known as Potomac Fever, which, once it strikes a man, never leaves him until he goes mad or dies. Potomac Fever is symptomatic of an obsession to become President of the United States of whom there have been 34 in 167 years.

This year, the Democrats have plenty of candidates for all positions, despite the fact that it has been assumed that President Eisenhower could not fail of re-election. Such an assumption is always too optimistic in American politics where anything can happen at the last moment. Therefore public figures, who have nothing to lose, are willing to take a chance on the law of probabilities and also to take advantage of the nationwide publicity that comes from being a candidate for President or Vice President.

One of the aspirants for the Vice Presidency is Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota who is regarded in most places as a radical but who has too much knowledge of history and economics to be anything of the kind. He is an educated man who apparently finds it possible to compromise with his knowledge and training for political advantage. This is supposed to be a practical way to operate in politics. Humphrey could, in a position of responsibility, exhibit the intellectual discipline which is not always visible in his Senatorial activities.

Most of the Vice Presidential aspirants in 1956 on the Democratic side have 1960 in view because it is assumed in Democratic quarters that, with Eisenhower unavailable, the Republicans will not be able to win in 1960. However, that is a long way off.

The real difficulty that both parties face is the meaningless "middle-of-the-road" concept which makes no political sense and therefore the election is reduced to a "cult of personality." As it stands today, both parties are without basic philosophies. Sherman Adams' effort to harpoon so-called intellectuals into the Republican Party assumes that there are none here. What Mr. Adams is seeking, in the idiotic phrase, eggheads, is not intellectuals but socialists who belong in the A.D.A.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
LEGUMES AND CEREAL GRAINS

Yesterday we were discussing the fact that about 80 per cent of the world's population belong to either the "rice" or the "wheat" eating worlds. We mentioned the regions where rice is the chief grain or cereal eaten. The "wheat world" includes northwestern Europe except the Scandinavian countries, southern Europe, Canada and the United States in North America, the southern part of South America, Australia, New Zealand and parts of North China. The "rice world" is more compact (the southeastern portion of Asia, India, Japan) geographically than the "wheat world" and somewhat larger in numbers of human inhabitants.

We might be surprised at the percentages of total daily calories derived from cereals before World War 2 reported by the Mixed Committee of the League of Nations for different parts of the world. They are as follows: United States, 35; Italy, 64; Russia, 73; Germany, 39; France, 35; United Kingdom, 33; and Japan, 87. In southern China rice provides more than 75 per cent of all food calories, while in northern China wheat constitutes the main cereal.

Perhaps we should at this point list the protein-rich foods which are eggs, meat, cheese, legumes (especially soybeans, peas and beans), fish, nuts. The complete proteins are milk, cheese, eggs, meat, most nuts. What are called incomplete proteins are grains, legumes and other vegetable foods. The proteins in cereal grains are of low value compared with those of animal origin because they are deficient in certain essential amino acids. There has been much written about the amino acids but perhaps the best definition is that they are the building stones of the protein molecule.

It has been known for years that the proteins of wheat are deficient in an amino acid called lysine and that soybeans are high in lysine and so an attempt has been made to supplement the proteins in wheat, flour and cornmeal with small amounts of defatted soybean flour with truly amazing results in what is known as PER (protein efficiency ratio). The same marked results were found with the addition of small amounts of such high protein-containing foods as dried non-fat milk solids, dry buttermilk, brewers' and cultured yeasts, and peanut flour.

Another example is corn, which is a significant cereal grain for human consumption in the southern part of the United States, Guatemala in Central America, South Africa, Yugoslavia and Mexico but its proteins are insufficient in certain amino acids which are found in milled rice. When half the proteins in milled cornmeal were replaced by proteins in milled rice, there was a 236 per cent increase in body weight and 165 per cent increase in PER.

Another example is the fact that it was found that when half the proteins in milled wheat were replaced by the same amount of proteins in milled rice, there was a 114 per cent increase in growth and 86 per cent increase in PER.

We can gather that it would seem most desirable for people of low income level now using milled corn for their basic cereal foods to consume a greater proportion of rice to balance the deficient proteins in corn.

Washington (NEA)—Big shots here get sick of making like city fellows all year. So they flee to the country for their cherished vacations.

Biggest vacation bumptin' is the chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, Lewis Strauss (pronounced straws). He retreats to his dairy-cattle farm in nearby Virginia and spends his time working the fields and flying kites.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks goes rural at his farm near Lancaster, N. H. The sign out in front says, "Cat Bo Farm, Maple Syrup, S. Weeks, Prop."

Secretary of Treasury George Humphrey has two farms to escape to. One is in Ohio and one in Georgia. The care and feeding of horses is his fun.

Defense Secretary Charles Wilson isn't going to visit his plantation in Louisiana. Instead, he plans to sneak in some time at his cottage on Walloon Lake near Petoskey, Mich., which is plenty rural.

A NOTICE on the bulletin board of the Pakistan embassy announces a brand-new 10-calorie-per day diet. It includes such dishes as pigeon thigh, boiled-out table cloth stains, roasted poppy seeds, shredded egg shell skins, broiled butterfly livers, jellyfish vertebrae and prime ribs of tadpole. Directions say: "Eat under microscope. Second week reverse. Third week call undertaker."

MORE THAN A WEEK after Congress folded, a Hill employee reports, "We survivors of the death spasms of the 84th Congress are still in an advanced state of shock and probably will remain on the critical list until after elections."

Do you wear rubber-soled shoes?

PERLE MESTA's first attempt at press agenting has paid off. As a result she has the career of former Air Force Sgt. Lloyd Lindroth on the high road to success.

Sgt. Lindroth used to play the harp in an Air Force group which appeared at fancy official functions. Perle loved his strumming and always called his talents to the attention of society reporters.

As a result of his press notes

NOW THAT Winston Churchill has retired, Australian Prime Minister Robert Gordon Menzies, who has been in Washington, is rated by many as the ablest orator among statesmen in the British Commonwealth of Nations. He's sometimes called "the poor man's Churchill."

Like Churchill, he's a real professional politician, can duck a fast question, can turn a neat phrase, has a marvelous sense of humor and likes to quote Shakespeare. He's a great friend of the U. S., to boot.

On Australian-American relations, Prime Minister Menzies has only two faults to find: American soldiers stationed in Australia during the war married so many Aussie girls there's a shortage of women there. And the Americans drank up so much Australian beer that it's still in short supply and there's none for export.

THE METHODIST Board of Temperance queried a group of senators about their reaction to the report that 80,000 cocktail parties are held in the nation's capital each year. Here are some of the senators' replies:

"I like to mix and mingle with people, but I have never found it necessary to use a cocktail for an excuse to do so."

"I did not receive invitations to 79,999 of those cocktail parties. Moreover, I did not attend the one to which I was invited."

"I short-circuit the cocktail circuit."

"About the only comment I care to make regarding Washington cocktail parties is that they are a complete bore."

Today in National Affairs

Democrats Believed Facing Split Ticket in Many States

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 10—The season of double-talk is on. It's a time when politicians say what they don't mean and never say what they do mean.

If anybody had predicted a few months ago that the great Democratic party at its national convention would be hesitating to endorse or approve in specific terms its platform the Supreme Court's decision on segregation, he would certainly have been regarded as a poor prophet.

Yet this very week the weasel words are being beamed from Chicago to the Southland and back. The professional politicians among the Democrats from the South were amazed to read that Adlai Stevenson, in an impromptu interview, said the Supreme Court's decision should be endorsed. Immediately his managers disavowed any attempt to "dictate" to the platform committee and said any "compromise" plank adopted would meet with his approval.

A SUBCOMMITTEE of compromise-writers from among the Democratic Senators and Representatives, especially equipped with the best synonyms and euphemisms in the dictionaries of modern politics, will try to draft phrases which will keep the Negro vote in the Democratic column in Northern states while at the same time avoid estranging the white who normally vote Democratic in the South. This is quite an assignment. But it will be accomplished. There will be oratorical outbursts from both sides at the convention and the whole "civil rights" controversy will be rehearsed. Gov. Harriman will be paraded as the staunch supporter of the "civil rights," while Adlai Stevenson will be portrayed as a wobbling "moderationist."

Yet this is about the only issue that separates the two leading contenders. The public has not been given any clear difference between their points of view on other issues, if there are such differences.

It looks now as if Harry Truman will cast his influence toward the candidate he finds out ahead of time is sure to get the nomination. That's normal behavior for a professional. It's no secret that Truman doesn't want Stevenson renominated but will nevertheless campaign vigorously for him if he is chosen. The former President likes Gov. Harriman and is beholden to him for extensive campaign contributions, especially in 1948 when he needed them badly. But there are stories that Truman hasn't dismissed the possibility of a deadlock out of which might emerge his friend, Senator Symington, as a compromise.

THE POLITICAL FACTS today show that Stevenson has the edge and isn't going to be sidetracked. The Harriman vote will go to Stevenson instead of to Symington if it is apparent that the New York governor can't win.

The public thinks, of course, that the nomination is really going to be contested for by rival delegations. Actually "rival bosses" would be a more accurate description of the true contestants. About a dozen men control the votes of enough states to win a Presidential nomination for their favorite candidate. It has been that way in most national conventions of both political parties for a long while.

The only time the rank and file of voters come into the picture is after the conventions have been held. If the Chicago meeting results in a platform plank which offends the South, it can be taken for granted that there will be a split in the November voting.

A "WALKOUT" of Southern delegations is not likely to occur at the convention unless some flagrant offense to the Southern Democrats is committed. With the experience of the revolt in the 1948 Democratic national convention still vividly in mind, the professionals feel they can avoid a recurrence. They now have as allies some Southern politicians who are themselves candidates for re-election to Congress and naturally do not want to see the voting procedures in November messed up.

There will be a drive, however, to get "write-in" votes on election day, and it will be stimulated by the failure of the national platform to denounce segregation, which the South feels is an unconstitutional usurpation of power by the High Court. For the Democratic national convention, even by inference, to applaud what the court has done is to fan the flames of fury in the South.

So ambiguity of phrasing could keep the professionals in the Democratic party harmonious next week, but it could also be the forerunner of a split ticket in many states, causing electoral votes for the Democratic nominee to be placed in jeopardy.

Keep Busy, Says Hoover at 82

Saves Politics for Parley, Opposes Laws Barring Aged

By LEONARD MILLMAN
(AP Feature Writer)

San Francisco, Aug. 10 (P)—Herbert Hoover observes his 82nd birthday today working on his third "farewell address to the Republicans." It's part of a normal working day that would fatigue most men half his age.

The ex-president, appearing remarkably young for his years, advised oldersters to follow his example and keep busy at "some kind of productive work."

"Otherwise, you will degenerate into talking to everybody about your pains and pills and income tax," he said in a birthday statement. He didn't recommend his own 12 to 14 hour days. But he did advise oldersters "not to retire from work or you will shrivel up into a nuisance to all mankind."

AMERICA NEEDS their skills, he said. "I have no patience with laws that prevent retired oldersters with meager pensions from earning all they can. Their productivity is a contribution to national wealth and comfort."

Hoover declined to talk about politics at a pre-birthday press conference in his "presidential suite" at the Mark Hopkins Hotel. He said he is saving that for a speech 10 days hence before the Republican national convention in San Francisco's Cow Palace, an appearance he said he was making only because President Eisenhower demanded it.

Hoover said his speech would deal with the greatest problem facing America today but did not elaborate.

HE CREDITED Eisenhower with having "done a tremendous amount to reduce tension" in the world. Because of reduced tensions, Hoover said, prospects of peace "are better now than they were four years ago."

The ex-president disclosed he is working on a book about his World War I activities—Belgian relief, food administrator, European rehabilitation—which include "the only activity in the American government I know of that has not been investigated by Congress."

He expects to have the book finished within a year.

THE INDEFATIGABLE octogenarian, whose longevity is matched by only three other former presidents, talked readily about his favorite subjects:

Government re-organization—"not only proposed to save considerable of your income tax but its principles would preserve the American way of life and it needs some preservatives."

Twenty million dollars a year is being saved by simplification of government documentations recommended by the commission "and we've only just made a start at it."

Fishing—"That's the way to get away from the radio, TV, telephone and all the other instruments of torture."

BOYS CLUBS for underprivileged "pavement boys"—America has 440 such clubs and is getting a new one every 10 days. Twenty police chiefs reported "delinquency caught wiped out" in Boys Clubs' areas. "They are a much cheaper operation for the community than paying for reform schools."

Private enterprise—"It's 'utterly impossible' for government to be as efficient as private business."

REPUBLICANS—"I've been pretty constant in my Republican faith." He has "no regrets" on his party participation since he first registered as a Republican at the age of 21 in Berkeley, Calif. That time in 1920 he won the Democratic presidential primary in Michigan "was over my protest."

Hoover made no birthday plans except for a dinner to-night with a few friends. "I imagine they will have a cake," he said.

No President has lived as long as he since James Madison died at 82 in 1836, John Adams, who was 90, and Thomas Jefferson, 83, were the only other Presidents to live longer. They died on the same day, July 4, 1826, the 50th anniversary of their signing the Declaration of Independence.

Appreciation
Editor, The Freeman:

On Monday, August 6, the Cristiani Bros. Circus Company performed for an audience of approximately 3,000 people at Dietz Stadium.

The circus was sponsored by the East Kingston Volunteer Fire Department and was one of the best attended in this city for quite a number of years.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to the Police Department and all who assisted in making this affair the great success that it was. We would like to thank all who attended and trust that we will have the pleasure of seeing them again next year when we hope to have the Cristiani Bros. Circus Company return to Kingston.

Yours very truly,
EAST KINGSTON
VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPT.
LOUIS V. NARDI,
President.

August 9, 1956

Praises Volunteers
Editor, The Freeman:

I wish to extend my sincere thanks in behalf of myself and my family for the splendid efforts of three rural fire companies in combatting a recent fire on my property in south Flatbush, off Route 32.

I was both surprised and gratified by the excellent cooperation shown by the East Kingston Fire Company, Glasco and Ulster No. 5 during a fire which levelled a large barn on my property and threatened adjoining buildings.

Such cooperation and response is very gratifying to us and must be reassuring to all persons who reside in rural areas. The volunteer companies are to be commended for their wonderful work.

With many thanks for allowing me this space,

Signed:
SAMUEL ASTALOS.

Swiss Would Take Case Out of Courts

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The state department has received a request from the Swiss government for a joint arbitration or conciliation of a dispute over the assets of the General Aniline & Film Corp. seized by the United States during World War 2.

The Swiss move yesterday was believed dictated by its disapproval of a federal court decision last Monday dismissing a Swiss suit for return of all general Aniline stock seized in 1942 and 1943 as enemy alien property. The suit denied the property was German-controlled.

The U. S. Office of Alien Property has since announced it would soon sell the stock it has in its possession.

Interhandel, the Swiss parent company which owns control of General Aniline, has moved to block any stock sale by appealing to the Court of Appeals.

Yesterday's move by the Swiss sought to have the entire battle removed from the courts.

Revolt Leader Slain

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Aug. 10 (AP)—The local military command said today it had been informed the military leader of an abortive revolt in Manabi Province was killed by his own followers. The announcement said Lt. Col. Arturo Davila was reported shot by his soldiers because they considered themselves betrayed. His garrison rebelled at Portoviejo, capital of Manabi Province, Monday night.

Fewer in Prison

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Prisons said today the number of persons it held in custody at mid-year was down slightly from a year earlier, but not enough to eliminate over-crowding. There were 20,374 persons in federal penal and correctional institutions last June 30, a decrease of 336 from the number of year earlier, Director James V. Bennett said in a report to Atty. Gen. Brownell.

French Actor Dies

Paris, Aug. 10 (AP)—Actor Felix Oudard, 75, died today at the Foch Hospital. Cause of death was not disclosed. A veteran of the French legitimate and musical stage and movies, Oudard played with the leading actors of the past half century in France.

This is how the editor of a paper in China declined a manuscript: "Illustrious brother of the sun and moon! Look upon the slave who rolls at thy feet, who kisses the earth before thee, and demands of thy charity permission to speak and live. We have read the manuscript with delight. By the bones of our ancestors we swear that never before have we encountered such a masterpiece. Should we print it, his majesty the emperor would order us to take it as a criterion and never again print anything which was not equal to it. As that would not be possible before ten thousand years, all tremblingly we return the manuscript and beg thee ten thousand pardons. See--my head is at thy feet, and I am the slave of thy servant."

Local Heart Fund Donations Aided 180 Scientists

Contributions by the people of Ulster county to the Heart Fund have helped make possible the awarding of more than a million dollars to 180 scientists across the country, who are conducting research on diseases of the heart and blood vessels, it was announced this week by Mrs. Vincent Connelly, chairman of the Heart Chapter of the Ulster County TB & Health Association.

THE AWARDS were made under the national research support program of the American Heart Association.

In addition to this research program, special funds were also contributed this year by the Ulster County Heart Chapter. A grant of $1,200 was made to Albany Medical School for a resident Teaching Fellowship and $500 was contributed to Dr. Robert P. Glover, cardiac surgeon, for his research work in Philadelphia. This special Research Fund included a contribution of $850, made by the people of the Wallkill area, in memory of George Crist, a businessman of that village.

MRS. CONNELLY, who is secretary of the New York Heart Assembly, said, reports show many studies of every description, are now being carried on in the American Heart Association program. A few of them include: blood vessel grafts, dietary changes on the development of arterial hardening in experimental animals, studies of the methods of prevention of rheumatic fever, studies of muscular properties and their relation to hypertension or high blood pressure and heart failure, circulation of heart and lungs, cardiac surgery; and value and effects of various drugs on the cardiovascular system. All of these are being carried on in an effort to investigate further about man's greatest killer, Heart Disease.

New $54,500,000 Nuclear Power Plant Gets Underway on Lake Erie, C-H Has Interest

Ground-breaking ceremonies for a huge, privately financed $54,500,000 nuclear power plant were held Wednesday on the Lake Erie shore at Monroe, Mich. It has been announced by Ernest R. Acker, president of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

A PERMIT to start construction was granted last week to Power Reactor Development Company, of which Central Hudson is a member, by the Atomic Energy Commission. Central Hudson is one of 26 electric utility, manufacturing and engineering companies sponsoring the project and Mr. Acker is a member of the board of trustees of the organization.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, praised the "vision and bold enterprise" of the Power Reactor Development Company which is building a "breeder" reactor, the largest of its type ever to be undertaken.

HE SAID the new plant would make "an enormous contribution to progress in the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

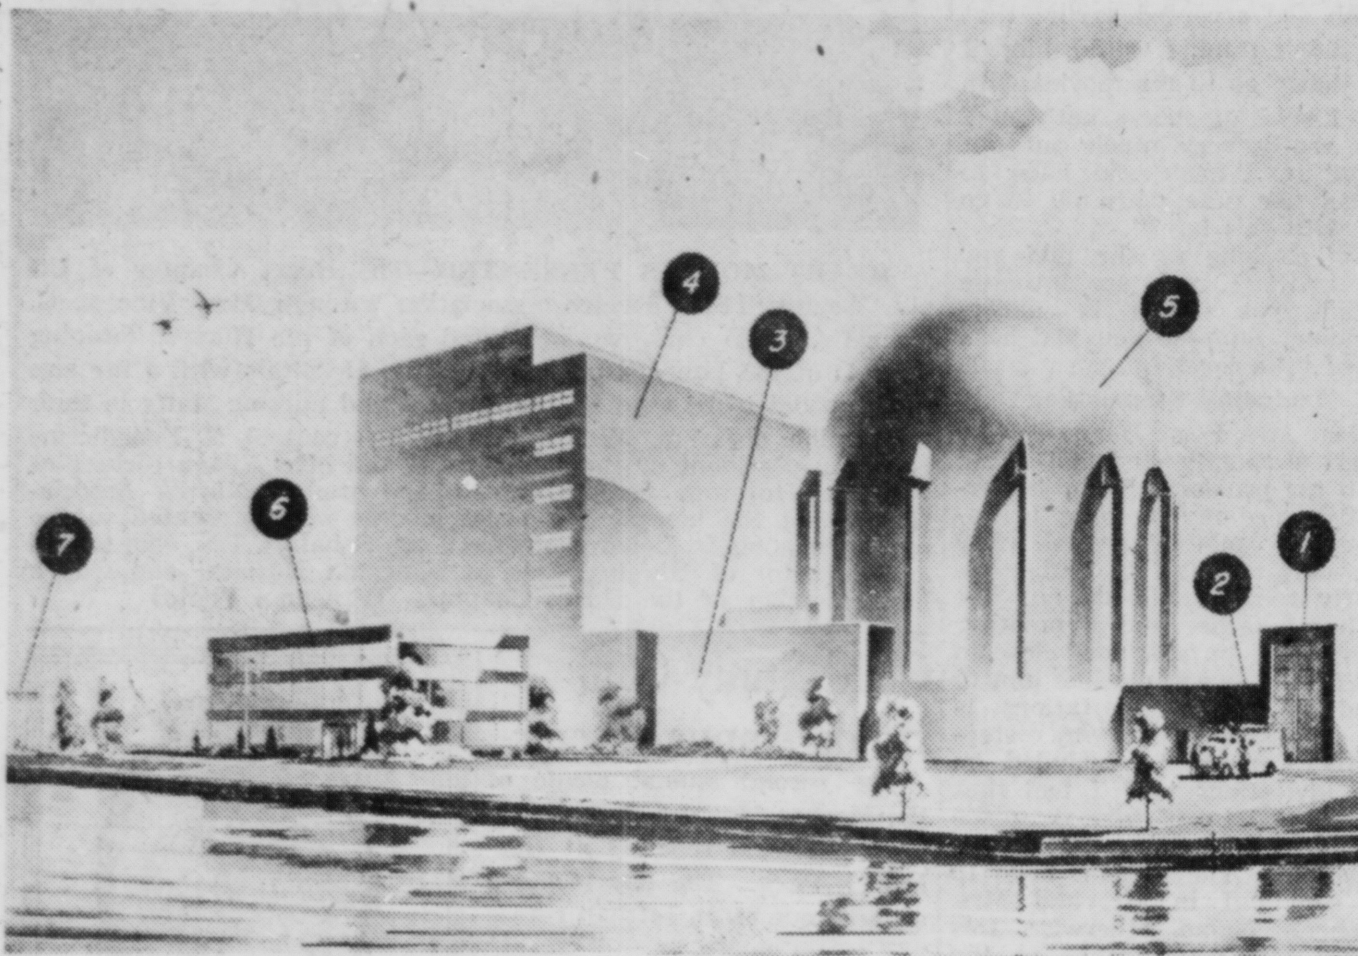

Mr. Strauss at the same time, however, in an address before 450 guests at the ceremony, issued a blunt rebuke to those who attack the free enterprise development of nuclear power in this country.

He noted that issuance of a conditional construction permit for the project by AEC had precipitated what he called "some rather violently voiced opposition in Washington."

IF THE ATTACK were successful, he said, it would have the effect of weakening if not eliminating free competition and would result in returning atomic energy to its former condition of government monopoly and government operation.

Official naming of the installation as the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant highlighted Wednesday's inaugural program. Dr. Fermi, who died in 1954, was the first man to demonstrate how the power of the atom could be harnessed for practical use. In 1942 he directed the building and operation of the atomic "pile" at the University of Chicago which achieved the first controlled release of atomic energy.

THE REACTOR UNIT of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant is of the "breeder" type. At Los Alamos, in 1945, Dr.

ARRANGEMENT OF BUILDINGS IN PROPOSED ATOMIC PLANT—Photo shows by number layout of atomic electric power plant on Lake Erie at Monroe, Mich., for which ground-breaking ceremonies were scheduled today. Plant will be constructed by Power Reactor Development Co., of which the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. is a member. (1) Element disassembly and shipping facility. (2) Liquid metal storage facility. (3) Steam generating building. (4) Turbine building. (5) Reactor building tank. (6) Office building and (7) Screen House. Full operating capacity is expected to be reached some time after 1960.

Fermi predicted that the nation which developed the breeder reactor—so-called because of its unique ability to produce more nuclear fuel than it consumes—would lead in the peaceful utilization of atomic energy.

Much progress has already been made on the project, Mr. Acker said. "Research and development work costing about $8,000,000 has gone into the basic plant design," he noted. "The 150,000 kilowatt steam turbine-generator to be used in connection with the reactor plant has been ordered, and many of the plant components have been ordered and are being built for use in the plant after thorough testing for safety and performance."

Central Hudson has been authorized by its board of directors to expend up to $200,000 over a five-year period for the atomic power project, Mr. Acker stated. "The company's participation in this and other atomic power research and development projects is evidence of the importance we attach to the prospective use of atomic fuels in the generation of electric power. Our participation in these activities permits us to more actively cooperate with other investor-owned utility companies in order to determine the potential application of atomic energy to our own electric power operations," he said. Some time after 1960, when full operating capacity is reached, the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant is expected to supply the electric power needs of a quarter of a million people, and is intended to serve as the pattern for many future atomic electric power plants throughout the nation.

Seattle Driver Wins Scholarship In Road-e-o

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—A $1,500 scholarship, the first prize in a nationwide teen-age driving contest, was awarded last night to 18-year-old Chris Bayley of Seattle, who said afterward "I was all set to take a picture of the winner."

The second prize, a $1,000 scholarship, went to Tommy Varner, 17, of (404 Springdale Dr., N. E.) Atlanta. Third place, good for a $500 scholarship, was taken by Sidney Van Court, 19, of (RD 2) Andover, Ohio. ## Spillway Barn Is Destroyed by Fire

Fire, apparently caused by spontaneous combustion, destroyed a barn containing paint and other combustibles on the Spillway road, town of Hurley, Thursday afternoon and caused damage estimated at $2,000.

The barn, located on property owned by Kenneth Weinstein, a gunsmith, about a quarter mile south of the junction of the Spillway road and Rt. 28-A, was completely involved in flame before the West Hurley Fire Department arrived.

There was no ammunition in the barn but the blaze, fed by a considerable quantity of paint and other combustibles, was fought by firemen for approximately two hours, Chief Lewis McNally reported.

The chief said he believed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion and estimated the damage at about $2,000.

The Weinstein home, located about 50 feet from the fire, was not endangered, the chief said, but it was necessary to wet down a wooded section in the vicinity of the barn.

The alarm was sounded at 4:15 p. m., and the recall at 6:35 p. m.

Esther Loses Suit

London, Aug. 10 (AP)—American swimming star Esther Williams today ordered a new and tighter fitting bathing suit because the one she was wearing slipped off. Performing her act at nearby Wembley Pool Miss Williams donned a special rhinestone bathing suit for her first entrance last night. Earlier in the day the shoulder strap had been re-lined to prevent it rubbing her neck. But no allowance was made for stretch. Esther dived in, felt the strap pop and then to her horror, felt the suit slip off. She went to the bottom of the pool, hitched it up and tied it on with a necklace, while other performers cavorted above to divert attention.

Delay of the trial, he added, is a "minor consideration."

A Kingston man, who was arrested Thursday night on an unlicensed operator charge, became more involved with the law when arresting officers found allegedly stolen vegetables in his car.

Allison Mowers, 46, of 18 Cedar street, was arrested at 11:15 p. m., on North Front street by Deputies Fred Brinkman and Thomas Mayone on the unlicensed operator charge.

Papers Assail Eden

Cairo, Aug. 10 (AP)—Cairo papers sharply assailed British Prime Minister Eden today for his assertion that President Nasser is not supported by his own people and other Arabs in the Suez crisis. ## Ike's Program 740 millions the second, and somewhat less later.

The main points in this plan call for a one-third cut in the present 30 per cent tax rate on the first $25,000 of a corporation's annual income, and legislation to authorize the use of rapid tax write-offs for depreciation for purchases of used equipment.

The cabinet group said it doubted these and other tax proposals would necessarily cost the treasury "any loss . . . in the long run." It noted that some of the tax proposals involve only a deferral of taxes, and that the proposed steps are expected to "enlarge the national income"—thus bringing in more taxes.

Survey Being Made On Canal to Lake Erie

Pittsburgh, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Planning Board will make a survey soon to determine the feasibility of a Pittsburgh to Lake Erie river canal.

John P. Robin, chairman of the board, said yesterday that as part of the study, the board will examine proposals for linking Pittsburgh to the St. Lawrence Seaway via a canal to the Great Lakes.

One route for a canal, urged by Ohio interests, would connect the Ohio river with Ashtabula, Ohio, on Lake Erie through the Beaver and Mahoning valleys in Pennsylvania.

Another possible route receiving attention, in the Franklin-oil city (Pa.) area, calls for use of the Allegheny river and French creek for an all-Pennsylvania Pittsburgh to Erie canal.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The "Greatest Show on Earth," the circus known as the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey for more than a quarter of a century, seems to have come to a sudden halt in its route. And just as suddenly instead of the circus advertising itself across the country every writer has taken it upon himself to add his bit on seeing the circus come to his home town. Phil Santora has a good write-up in the Tuesday, August 7th Daily News. Quoting in part from this article, "In Sarasota, Florida, Haley's wife, Mrs. Aubrey Ringling Haley, widow of Johnny North's cousin, Richard Ringling and until a decade ago one-third owner of the show" said in part: "In the olden days, when a sudden storm came up and frightened the animals, everybody pitched in to quiet the animals, and make sure the canvas was tight. Their motto was: 'Get the show on the road and keep it there.' . . . The small circuses . . . were the training ground for the Big Top . . . they were the minor leagues . . . the farm clubs that trained the men and women who went on to Ringling. Not only good performers, but good canvas men."

It seems the old Big Top used to go on the road with some 1,600 persons and if the circus lost one day, it cost some $25,000. No doubt most circus lovers read how the Big Top folded in Pittsburgh on July 16th. John North said in part: "The tented circus as it now exists is in my opinion a thing of the past. We are considering plans for the future that may involve an almost completely mechanically controlled exhibition. The all new 87th presentation of Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Combined Shows will open as usual on April 3rd at Madison Square Garden and will play the 1957 season in other air conditioned arenas all over the United States."

Woman Asks Asylum

Nuernberg, Germany, Aug. 10 (AP)—Police disclosed today that a 40-year-old Russian woman, being repatriated under heavy guard to the Soviet Union, jumped off a train during a one-minute stop here and asked for political asylum. The woman told police she tossed her baggage out a window yesterday and leaped off after she got doubts about returning. The Russian guards prevented her husband from escaping with her, she said. She said that she and her husband fled Russia some time ago and made their way via West Germany to Belgium. In Brussels they decided to accept repatriation.

Says Stassen Rejected

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Sen. Schoepel (R-Kan.) said today Republicans across the nation in "overwhelming numbers" are rejecting Harold E. Stassen's dump-Nixon drive. Schoepel, chairman of the GOP senatorial campaign committee spoke out in an interview shortly after returning from strategy sessions in Kansas and other states. He predicted again that Vice President Nixon will be renominated and that an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket will lead Republicans to victory in the national and congressional elections in November.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Slam Dream Comes True

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
Wishful thinking is the theme of today's hand. Mickey Miller of Toronto found the winning line of play because there was only one distribution that could give him a chance. He played for the distribution, and his dream came true.

Mickey took it for granted that West's double was based on the queen of trumps and both missing kings. An expert wouldn't have doubled even with all three high cards, but the point was that even the optimistic West player wouldn't have doubled with less.

Mickey saw that he could throw West in with the queen of spades and make him lead away from one of his kings. This would not, however, be enough. He needed a 4-3 break in hearts to produce four tricks in that suit. This would give him four hearts, four trumps, two other aces and the queen of whichever suit West could be forced to lead.

The total was still only 11 tricks unless South could also ruff something in the dummy.

In short, Mickey had to execute his throw-in play while he still had A-x-x in both clubs and diamonds. If West then had to lead away from a king, declarer would take the queen and ace and would still be able to ruff his other low card in the dummy.

After coming to this conclusion, Miller won the first trick with the ace of hearts, discarded a club on the king of hearts, and ruffed a heart. He could not afford to take a second discard. Then he cashed two top spades and gave West his spade trick. West had to lead away from a king, and the rest of the play went according to plan.

Hambletonian Transferred

Showdown Looms Between Monaghan, Trotting Group

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—A showdown between the United States Trotting Association and Harness Racing Commissioner George Monaghan of New York state over control of the sport in New York was seen today in the transfer of the Hambletonian Stakes from Goshen, N. Y., to Du Quoin, Ill.

The rich stake for 3-year-old trotters, raced for the 31st time last Wednesday with The Indruder winning, was awarded to Du Quoin yesterday by the directors of the Hambletonian Society after they had criticized the administration of the sport in New York state.

E. ROLAND HARRIMAN, president of the society, said in a statement the directors agreed the proper place for the Hambletonian is Goshen, where it has been raced since 1930.

But they turned down the offer of the seven New York trotting tracks to continue the race at Goshen because of "the unsatisfactory condition under which harness racing is being administered in New York state at the present time."

The USTA, national governing body of the sport, and Monaghan have been engaged for some time in a controversy over control of trotting and pacing in this state.

Although the USTA and the Hambletonian Society are separate organizations, many of the members belong to both organizations. They include Harriman; Lawrence Sheppard, president of the USTA and Eugene Hayes, head of the Du Quoin State Fair.

"IT'S A MATTER strictly for the Hambletonian Society to decide," was Monaghan's immediate reaction to the Society's blast carried under Harriman's name. But he added: "I'll let the records in this state stand for themselves."

Monaghan has scheduled a noon press conference today at which he was expected to answer Sheppard's latest letter in which the USTA president asked if all names ordered by the Moreland Commission had been removed from the list of stockholders at Roosevelt and Yorkers Raceways. The Moreland Commission was named to investigate the sport in New York and led to the appointment of Monaghan by ex-Governor Dewey, a Republican.

The Hambletonian Society, apparently looking forward to the day when Monaghan steps out, awarded the stake to Du Quoin for only two years and added it would consider moving back to Goshen at that time "if racing conditions in New York were bettered."

THE RACE, trotting's show piece, will be raced at Du Quoin either in 1957-58 or 1958-59. It all depends on the man who sponsored the classic before his death last March. Under terms of Cane's will his estate will run the race at Goshen next year but Hayes will seek Mrs. Cane's permission to move it to the southern Illinois town of 7,000 population.

The new promoters will add 45 per cent of the nomination and entry fees or $32,000, which ever is the greater, to the purse. At Goshen the added money has been 33 1/3 per cent. The race was worth slightly more than $100,000 this year with the winner earning $59,155.

Marks, Upset Victor Over Ribner, Meets Rochester Opponent

Having registered a stunning upset over two-time finalist, Lloyd Ribner of Metropolis, Ronnie Marks, the 1955 Wiltwyck Country Club champion, played a second round match against Robert Stenzel of Rochester at the Dutchess Golf and Country Club.

Three other Kingston representatives in the 34th annual New York State Amateur—George Hughes and Alvin Boice of Twaalfskill and Jerry Affron of Wiltwyck were on the sidelines.

Marks scored the most notable victory of his young career when he eliminated the veteran former Westchester and Metropolitan champion and 1948 and 1951 finalist in the State Amateur.

All even in 37s at the end of nine holes, Marks dropped the 10th hole. Ribner's birdie-3. They halved the next three holes and Marks squared the match on the treacherous 14th, a right dogleg guarded by a pond on the right. Ribner's tee shot landed in the brink and Marks took the hole with a bogey-5.

The sixteenth—a flat hole with a pitch to an elevated green—proved Ribner's undoing. He hooked his tee shot into the rough and pushed his second 40 yards short of the green.

Marks' drive hugged the right side of the fairway but he hooked his approach iron about 40 yards to the left of the green.

The stage was set for a dramatic pitch shot by Marks. The players were so equally distant from the pin that it was necessary to flip a coin to see who would shoot first. Marks won the toss and elected to shoot first. He pitched weakly to about 30 feet, just off the edge of the green. Ribner's chip just made the green carpet, 30 feet above the pin with a downhill putt.

The match might have been decided then and there. Marks' next shot was a beautiful 7-iron chip that hit just short of the green and trickled into the cup for a par 4. Ribner, a dogged campaigner, made a gallant try to can the equalizer but his 30-footer just slipped past the left side of the cup.

Marks had the honor on the 17th and planted his tee shot dead center on the downhill hole.

But Ribner, attempting to cut corners, pushed a long shot too close to the right boundary and it hit a dirt road out of bounds. He was three off the tee and pitched to 20 feet of the pin.

Marks was on the green in regulation two 15 feet away. Ribner was away, shooting 5, and he canned the terrific pressure putt. But Marks played it safely, putting to within 18 inches and holing out in four to win 2 and 1.

A couple of bad holes contributed to George Hughes' elimination at the hands of Mike Volpe, a ranking Westchester player. George went 2 down at the end of nine when he double-bogied the par-4 first hole and missed an 18-inch putt on the par-3 eight. Volpe canned a 6-footer for a birdie on the 9th.

Robert Monk of Knollwood Country Club, the 1954 champion, eliminated Alvin Boice, 3 and 2 after a nip and tuck match. The former champion had one streak in which he birdied four of five holes.

Ribner was the only major casualty of the opening round as the pre-tournament favorites won handily.

Defending champion Billy Shields of Albany beat Don Tiffany, of Syracuse, 4 and 3. Tiffany was penalized two holes for reporting late on the first tee. Ray Billows of the host club, seven-times champion, defeated John Bastian of Lake Placid, 6 and 5, shooting par golf.

Willie Turnesa, 1838 champion, won from 16-year-old Bob Benson of Randolph, 5 and 4.

Tommy Goodwin of Rye, four-time champion, gained a 6 and 4 verdict over Jack Bowling of Buffalo.

Hank Kowal of Poughkeepsie defeated Donald Smith of Binghamton, 4 and 3.

Don Mangino of Schenectady, a frequent performer in the Woodstock Open and Wiltwyck Pro-Am was five under par when he ousted Doug Burkett of Randolph, 7 and 6.

The Motormen backed Haber with flawless support and the pitcher of the day didn't come close to walking a batter. He struck out 12.

THE VICTORY earned Nadler the No. 3 spot in the post-season playoffs that start next week. Yesterday's game was a playoff of a fourth place tie.

Ex-Driver, Mayor Is Heart Victim

Milwaukee, Aug. 10 (AP)—Time, the only opponent Ab Jenkins ever feared, caught up with the old speed king late last night and he died of a heart attack.

THE 73-YEAR-OLD race driver and former mayor of Salt Lake City collapsed as he was returning in an automobile to his hotel from a Milwaukee-St. Louis baseball doubleheader.

George Bourke, a Milwaukee friend who was driving, took Jenkins to a nearby service station and called a police ambulance. Jenkins was pronounced dead at County Emergency Hospital.

Jenkins, a stocky, white-haired man who only recently had to start wearing glasses over his keen blue eyes, set his first record in 1926.

At his death, he still held half a dozen speed and endurance marks.

On July 20, 1951, when he was only three minutes away from setting a new one-hour record on the Bonneville Salt Flats, he skidded into a course marker and damaged the radiator of his famous "Mormon Meteor."

CLIMBING OUT of the car, he said it was his last race. "At 68 I've outlived the car," he said.

But last June he set out to establish a 24-hour endurance auto speed record. He did it, with some help from his son, Marvin. Driving a stock model Pontiac, Jenkins averaged 118.378 miles an hour, smashing all existing American unlimited and Class C stock car records.

Trowbridge, Phillips Sparkle

Clutch Hurling by Rookie Duo Protects Braves League Lead

By ED WILKS
(By The Associated Press)

Taylor Phillips and Bob Trowbridge, steaming their stuff in like old pros, came through in the clutch and the Milwaukee Braves still have the National League lead as they dive into a four-game series with Cincinnati tonight.

Faced with two two-night doubleheaders in as many days, Manager Fred Haney was forced to gamble with righthander Trowbridge, 26, and southpaw Phillips, 23. The "gamble" turned out to be a sure-thing.

BOTH WERE scheduled to go Wednesday night against the St. Louis Cardinals, but when Trowbridge won a six-hitter in the opener, Haney pushed in 13-game winner Lew Burdette, who lost in 10 innings. That put the pressure on Phillips, who never had started before in the majors, and he came through with a dandy, three-hit, six-strikeout job in the opener of last night's pair to beat the Cards 4-1.

It kept the Braves healthy since St. Louis shelled Gene Conley in the nightcap 5-1 to split the four-game set—leaving Milwaukee with a 1½-game lead after runnerup Brooklyn bounced Pittsburgh 7-3 and Cincinnati, just two games back, hammered homers to beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 in 10 innings.

The New York Giants ended Philadelphia's winning streak at six games by beating the Phillies 5-2 on four runs, two by Jackie Brandt.

IN THE AMERICAN, Mickey Mantle hit homer No. 39—going 11 games up on Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927—as the New York Yankees walloped Washington 15-7. Boston took over second place, 8½ games back, with a 3-1 decision over Baltimore while the Chicago White Sox took Cleveland 9-2 to drop the Indians to third. Kansas City, after losing six straight, belted Detroit 5-3.

The thing that made Haney's gamble a must was the fact ace Bob Buhl was sidelined with a chipped bone on his pitching hand. What made it a gamble was the fact Trowbridge never had gone more than 4 2/3 innings at one crack while Phillips hadn't gone more than 6. Yet both went all the way to win.

Phillips, now 2-0 as is Trowbridge, gave up two singles in the fourth inning when the Cards scored their run with help of an error. Singles by Bobby Thomson and Bill Bruton produced two first-game runs for the Braves with Murry Dickson's wild pitch and an error scoring the others.

IN THE NIGHTCAP, Stan Musial was the man, driving in three runs while Tom Poholsky was scattering eight Milwaukee singles. Conley didn't last five innings and Haney eventually sent Buhl in for two innings (he gave one hit) to test the injured finger in a warmup for a probable Sunday starting job.

Brooklyn, facing the Phillies while the Braves and Redlegs have it out in Milwaukee, had the Pirates wrapped up 5-0 in four innings. Peevée Reese, scoring three times for a 1,257 career total that bettered Zack Wheat's Dodger runs-scored record of 1,225, drove in three runs while Junior Gilliam had four hits and a sacrifice fly. Ed Roebuck won it with a two-hit relief job over five frames for his fifth victory. Carl Erskine started. Dick Hall lost it.

Geese, timed by airplane speedometer, can travel at 60 miles per hour, and they have an altitude record of 29,000 feet.

Hambletonian Transferred

Showdown Looms Between Monaghan, Trotting Group

New York, Aug. 10 (AP) — A showdown between the United States Trotting Association and Harness Racing Commissioner George Monaghan of New York state over control of the sport in New York was seen today in the transfer of the Hambletonian Stakes from Goshen, N. Y., to Du Quoin, Ill.

The rich stake for 3-year-old trotters, raced for the 31st time last Wednesday with The Indruder winning, was awarded to Du Quoin yesterday by the directors of the Hambletonian Society after they had criticized the administration of the sport in New York state.

E. ROLAND HARRIMAN, president of the society, said in a statement the directors agreed the proper place for the Hambletonian is Goshen, where it has been raced since 1930.

But they turned down the offer of the seven New York trotting tracks to continue the race at Goshen because of "the unsatisfactory condition under which harness racing is being administered in New York state at the present time."

The USTA, national governing body of the sport, and Monaghan have been engaged for sometime in a controversy over control of trotting and pacing in this state.

Although the USTA and the Hambletonian Society are separate organizations, many of the members belong to both organizations. They include Harriman; Lawrence Sheppard, president of the USTA and Eugene Hayes, head of the Du Quoin State Fair.

"IT'S A MATTER strictly for the Hambletonian Society to decide," was Monaghan's immediate reaction to the Society's blast carried under Harriman's name. But he added: "I'll let the records in this state stand for themselves."

Monaghan has scheduled a noon press conference today at which he was expected to answer Sheppard's latest letter in which the USTA president asked if all names ordered by the Moreland Commission had been removed from the list of stockholders at Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways. The Moreland Commission was named to investigate the sport in New York and led to the appointment of Monaghan by ex-Governor Dewey, a Republican.

The Hambletonian Society, apparently looking forward to the day when Monaghan steps out, awarded the stake to Du Quoin for only two years and added it would consider moving back to Goshen at that time "if racing conditions in New York were bettered."

THE RACE, trotting's show piece, will be raced at Du Quoin either in 1957-58 or 1958-59. It all depends on Mrs. William Cane, widow of the man who sponsored the classic before his death last March. Under terms of Cane's will his estate will run the race at Goshen next year but Hayes will seek Mrs. Cane's permission to move it to the southern Illinois town of 7,000 population.

The new promoters will add 45 per cent of the nomination and entry fees or $32,000, whichever is the greater, to the purse. At Goshen the added money has been $31 1/3 per cent. The race was worth slightly more than $100,000 this year with the winner earning $59,155.

WHILE HABER was mesmerizing the Eagles, the Motormen parlayed five hits and six walks off George Kitchart and Ted Marable into five runs, scoring in four of six turns at bat.

A second inning tally was enough to nail down Haber's triumph. John "Kluszewski" Godwin walked, stole second and scored on Jim Ferraro's single.

Skip Brodhead collected a pair of singles to pace the Motormen.

The schedule for the playoffs has been announced as follows:

Monday—Jones Dairy vs. Nadler Motors

Tuesday—Watzkas vs. Eagles

Wednesday—Jones Dairy vs. Nadlers, Dietz Stadium.

Thursday—Watzkas vs. Eagles

Ex-Driver, Mayor Is Heart Victim

Milwaukee, Aug. 10 (AP)—Time, the only opponent Ab Jenkins ever feared, caught up with the old speed king late last night and he died of a heart attack.

THE 73-YEAR-OLD race driver and former mayor of Salt Lake City collapsed as he was returning in an automobile to his hotel from a Milwaukee-St. Louis baseball doubleheader.

George Bourke, a Milwaukee friend who was driving, took Jenkins to a nearby service station and called a police ambulance. Jenkins was pronounced dead at County Emergency Hospital.

Jenkins, a stocky, white-haired man who only recently had to start wearing glasses over his keen blue eyes, set his first record in 1926.

At his death, he still held half a dozen speed and endurance marks.

On July 20, 1951, when he was only three minutes away from setting a new one-hour record on the Bonneville Salt Flats, he skidded into a course marker and damaged the radiator of his famous "Mormon Meteor."

CLIMBING OUT of the car, he said it was his last race.

"At 68 I've outlived the car," he said.

But last June he set out to establish a 24-hour endurance auto speed record. He did it with some help from his son, Marvin.

Driving a stock model Pontiac, Jenkins averaged 118.378 miles an hour, smashing all existing American unlimited and Class C stock car records.

Geese, timed by airplane speedometer, can travel at 60 miles per hour, and they have an altitude record of 29,000 feet.

Trowbridge, Phillips Sparkle

Clutch Hurling by Rookie Duo Protects Braves League Lead

By ED WILKS

(By The Associated Press)

Taylor Phillips and Bob Trowbridge, steaming their turf in like old pros, came through in the clutch and the Milwaukee Braves still have the National League lead as they dive into a four-game series with Cincinnati tonight.

Faced with two two-night doubleheaders in as many days, Manager Fred Haney was forced to gamble with right-hander Trowbridge, 26, and southpaw Phillips, 23. The "gamble" turned out to be a sure-thing.

BOTH WERE scheduled to go Wednesday night against the St. Louis Cardinals, but when Trowbridge won a six-hitter in 13-game winner Lew Burdette, who lost in 10 innings. That put the pressure on Phillips, who never had started before in the majors, and he came through with a dandy, three-hit, six-strikeout job in the opener of last night's pair to beat the Cards 4-1.

It kept the Braves healthy since St. Louis shelled Gene Conley in the nightcap 5-1 to split the four-game set—leaving Milwaukee with a 1½-game lead after runnerup Brooklyn bounced Pittsburgh 7-3 and Cincinnati, just two games back, hammered homers to beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 in 10 innings.

The New York Giants ended Philadelphia's winning streak at six games by beating the Phillies 5-2 on four runs, two by Jackie Brandt.

IN THE AMERICAN, Mickey Mantle hit homer No. 39—going 11 games up on Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927—as the New York Yankees walloped Washington 15-7. Boston took over second place, 8½ games back, with a 3-1 decision over Baltimore while the Chicago White Sox took Cleveland 9-2 to drop the Indians to third. Kansas City, after losing six straight, belted Detroit 5-3.

The thing that made Haney's gamble a must was the fact ace Bob Buhl was sidelined with a chipped bone on his pitching hand. What made it a gamble was the fact Trowbridge never had gone more than 4½ innings at one crack while Phillips hadn't gone more than 6.

Yet both went all the way to win.

Phillips, now 2-0 as is Trowbridge, gave up two singles in the fourth inning when the Cards scored their run with help of an error. Singles by Bob Thomson and Bill Bruton produced two first-game runs for the Braves with Murry Dickson's wild pitch and an error scoring the others.

IN THE NIGHTCAP, Stan Musial was the man, driving in three runs while Tom Poholsky was scattering eight Milwaukee singles. Conley didn't last five innings and Haney eventually sent Buhl in to test the injured finger in a warmup for a probable Sunday starting job.

Brooklyn, facing the Phillies while the Braves and Redlegs have it out in Milwaukee, had the Pirates wrapped up 5-0 in four innings. Peeewe Reese, scoring three times for a 1,257 career total that bettered Zack Wheat's 1,225, drove in three runs while Junior Gilliam had four hits and a sacrifice fly. Ed Roebuck won it with a two-hit relief job over five frames for his fifth victory. Carl Erskine started. Dick Hall lost it.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

If often has been said and written that professional baseball is a game played by men in short pants.

To the total discredit of the many fine fellows who play it, Theodore Samuel Williams has gone far out of his way to prove that this is true.

It was about time that someone cracked down on the ill-mannered Ted Williams who, at 38, refuses to become an adult.

It's a pity that the greatest of the modern hitters will pass out of the picture remembered mostly for spitting at and making obscene gestures to the people who enabled him to make $100,000 a year.

It no longer is easy to pass off Williams' tantrums. It was really funny when, as the greatest young slugger in baseball, the Red Sox star said he wanted to be a fireman. That was dismissed with a lot of good-natured ribbing.

If Williams hadn't worked so long and tenaciously at being offensive to the paying guests, you might be inclined to dismiss the latest exasperating incident at Fenway Park as the costliest spat in history. Spit is a horrid word, but totally out of sight at the current Williams rate—$5,000 a spit.

Why, Williams is well on his way to destroying all the old tobacco-chewing traditions of the national pastime.

From now on, the Great Expectator had best not even get anything caught in his throat, or as much as spit on his hands. The burden of proof is on him, and the next spit means $10,000.

There are a lot of perennial juveniles in baseball, but the management usually surrounds them with mature teammates who keep them out of trouble. Joe Cronin, who has had Williams since he first came around, tried this with the major leagues' undisputed problem child, Williams, but it just didn't work.

That was bad, because, where Duke Snider of the Dodgers, for example, flares up about the customers now and then, he deeply regrets it the next minute.

On the other hand, fighting the fans and the Boston baseball writers became an obsession with Williams.

The lowdown on Williams is that he never wanted to do anything but bat and fish.

It just so happens that a major league ballplayer had a few more responsibilities than that. Even when he got old enough to know better, Williams refused to accept these responsibilities.

Williams refused to accept the fact that it is an American privilege to boo the ballplayer as well as the umpire. From Pop Anson to Mickey Mantle, ballplayers have accepted this as a healthy part of the game. If that's abuse, Williams should take a lot of it for $100,000 a year.

Spitting at the stands, Williams totally overlooked the fact that he was insulting, not only the boo birds, but thousands of admirers rooting him on to another $100,000 contract.

His indecencies got so bad that Boston newspaper headlines read, "Family Night at Fenway Park—Come Out and See Ted Williams Spit."

Totally unappreciative, selfish and one-track minded Ted Williams just didn't grow up and now it's too late.

He'll bow out with the whole world as his gobboon.

Bo Winger's 65 Tops Torrid 1st Round in Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—Bo Winger tries to protect his one-stroke lead in today's second round of Tam O'Shanter's golf madness after one of the greatest par-shattering displays ever recorded in major tournament competition.

So eager were the 93 men pros in the "world" championship field to get a hunk of a $101,200 purse that 47 of them bettered par 72 as the 72-hole gold rush started yesterday.

Winger, prematurely gray 33-year-old pro from Odessa, Tex., took aim on the $50,000 first prize with a 7-under-par 65. Winger led the "world" through 54 holes with a 209 last year but then collapsed for a closing 77 to share ninth place.

ON THE SCENT this time with 66's were National Open champion Cary Middlecoff and 45-year-old Ernie Ball, Oak Park, Ill., club pro.

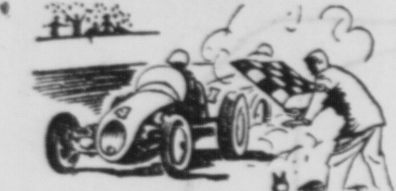

Grouped at 67, were Bill Nary, Ted Kroll, Pete Cooper and George Bayer. The 68 shooters included Billy Maxwell, Jimmy Demaret, Peter Thomson, Jay Hebert, Herman Schlarau and Jerry Barber.

Clustered at 69 were Babe Lichardus, Walker Inman Jr., Mike Fethick, Johnny Palmer, Ed Oliver and Bob Toski, the 1954 "world" winner.

Among 11 in the 70 bracket were Sam Snead, Arnold Palmer and Earl Stewart Jr. defending champ Julius Boros had 72.

Front runner spots in the $15,000 women's pro section also were jammed. Mickey Wright entered the second round on top with a 5-under-par 71. Betty Jameson, Alice Bauer and Louise Suggs were next with 73.

Tribe Wins 16th in Row

There seems to be no stopping the Shults Paint Co. Indians. The undefeated Tribe rolled to its 16th straight win in the National Little League yesterday, blasting the Hiltbrand Dry Dock Co. Pirates, 14-4.

Brilliant relief pitching by Tom Fiore and the home run bats of Bill Murphy and Rich Sickler wrought destruction on the cellar-ridden Bucs. Murphy homered twice, and Sickler once to pace the long distance clouting.

Meanwhile, Fiore handcuffed the Pirates on one hit after taking over from Bill Boice in the second with the Bucs on top 4-3.

Browns Favored By 13 Points to Beat All Stars

Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—The College All Stars, cautious and wary, and Cleveland's revenge-minded Browns clash tonight in the 23rd annual All-Star football classic at Soldiers Field.

The National Football League champions have been quoted up to 13 point favorites for the game which will be televised and broadcast nationally (ABC, 8:30 p. m. EST). A crowd of 70,000 is expected.

COACH CURLY LAMBEAU and the All Stars turned back the Browns, 30-27, last year behind Tad Weed's three field goals and Raph Guglielmi's nifty passing.

For this reason, coach Paul Brown reportedly has his team in mid-season form. But Lambeau is claiming he needs more time, more practice and a "lot of luck" to beat the pro champs. Lambeau made similar remarks before last year's upset. One thing is in favor of the All Stars and that's the fact that quarterback Otto Graham will not be playing. Graham "retired" before last year's classic and after losing to the stars and going through a mediocre exhibition season, Brown lured Graham out of retirement.

Otto pitched the Browns to the title and if Cleveland must have Graham to field a champion, the All Stars have a chance.

GRAHAM'S CHORES will be handled by George Ratterman, no world beater last year, and Vito Parilli.

The All Star starting backfield will have All America Earl Morrall of Michigan State at quarterback. All America Howard Cassady of Ohio State at left half, Southern Methodist's Don McIlhenny at the other half and Don Schaefer of Notre Dame at full.

If Morrall can't get the offense moving, Lambeau can beckon Navy's George Welsh or Iowa's Jerry Reichow.

Triplets Seek To Fatten Lead Against Johnnies

(By The Associated Press)

The Binghamton Triplets hope to fatten up their Eastern League lead tonight when they meet the seventh-place Johnstons in a doubleheader in Johnstown.

The Triplets took a rest last night while Reading was edging Schenectady 9-5 for possession of second place in the standings.

THE VICTORY moved the game of the league-leaders and host Reading club to within a pushed the Jays to third. Schenectady is two games out.

Allentown scored a 12-0 home-field victory over Albany to darken the Senators' first division hopes. Williamsport's 4-1 win over Syracuse pushed the Chiefs into sole possession of the loop cellar.

Schenectady broke the ice in the second inning when Harry Anderson rounded the sacks on an inside-the-park homer. But a triple by the Indians Joe Randoz and Ken Retzer's fourth home run of the season gave the hosts a 2-1 margin in the bottom of the inning.

The Jays could never catch up but threatened with a three-run rally in the ninth before Tom Herrera relieved starter Jim (Mudcat) Grant, who was credited with the win.

THE GAME was played under protest by Indians' Manager Don Heffner who claimed an interference play in the sixth inning.

Ernie Palmieri, winning his third game in 10 days, scattered eight hits to the Senators while his Redbird mates were banging out 16.

Joe Christopher and Chuck Buheller sparked the Williamsport victory at Syracuse. Christopher accounted for four hits in as many times at bat, including a home run, a double and two singles. Buheller smacked a two-run homer in the eighth.

Half of U. S. spending units (families and single people) had incomes of more than $4,000 each in 1955.

Guard Is Praised, Comment Held Up on Camp Drum

Camp Drum, Aug. 10 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker says the air force and navy are indispensable—but the man who has the ability to "go in and get 'em" is the factor that "breaks the back of the enemy."

Brucker came to northern New York yesterday to inspect the 42nd (Rainbow) Division of the New York National Guard, which is undergoing training here.

The secretary said in a speech he was "very pleased" with the training.

When asked at a news conference whether there had been any change in his opinion that Drum should not be made a permanent base, Brucker replied: "I haven't really 'seen' Camp Drum."

He commented that it would be ridiculous just after stepping off a plane here to say, "Well, this is a fine place and I like it, so we will make it permanent."

Shoots Wife, Then Turns Gun on Self
Spencer, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—A case of murder and suicide involving a middle-aged couple was reported by state police last night.

Troopers said Albert Lawton, 56, shot his wife, Laura, to death and then killed himself in front of her parents' home in this Tioga county village.

Mrs. Lawton, 49, had been staying at her parents' home to help care for her father, who is ill, police said.

Trooper R. F. Burke said Mrs. Lawton had gone out on the front porch to speak to her husband when Lawton apparently pushed his wife to the floor of the porch and shot her in the back with a .38 automatic pistol. ## Postal Has Photo Of Local Child Enjoying Beach

Robert Saehloff of The Freeman advertising department received a picture card this week from Adrian Kaplan, prominent Kingston merchant, who is now vacationing at Falmouth, Mass., with his wife and daughter.

On the card, which is in color, is a picture of a beach and a very cute little blonde girl about a year old standing in the edge of the waves in an extremely winning pose.

Well, the funny thing is that the little girl in the picture, apparently unbeknownst to Mr. Kaplan, is Sandra "Sandy" Flemings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Flemings of Nassau, formerly of Kingston—and a niece of Mr. Saehloff!

By curious coincidence Mr. Kaplan had selected this particular card out of many he might have taken.

Mr. Saehloff—Bob to us—explains that several years ago, when Sandy was 13 months old, the Flemings were vacationing at Cragville Beach on Cape Cod, Mass., when a picture card representative had taken the picture for commercial purposes. The Flemings, for their part in the transaction, received 500 of the cards.

Mrs. Flemings is the former Betty Saehloff of Kingston, Bob's sister.

Sandy, incidentally, is now six years old—and just as cute as she ever was.

Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Flemings, formerly of Kingston, now reside in Florida.

Mr. Kaplan reports on the card that he hasn't "tried my hand at blues and stripers as yet"—fishing to you!

Many wounded or missing, French authorities said today. The French also estimated "several dozens" of Arab villagers near Constantine were massacred yesterday in "rebel terror raids" in a so-called pacified area.

Briefly Told

Batavia, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—A 93-year-old caretaker who quite accurately predicted a bad winter and cold spring for 1955-56 sees little hope for any good weather this fall.

"The fall will be very short," says Fred F. Miller. It seems the caterpillars this year "have only a little black on them."

The year is "about the worst I've seen, and I've seen a lot of 'em," Miller added.

Simcoe, Ont., Aug. 10 (AP)—A three-year-old girl was killed by the New York Central's New York express yesterday when her foot became caught between the rail and a crossing plank.

Farmer Andy Szaboda worked desperately to free the child while the train was bearing down. He managed to jump to safety as the train thundered past.

The girl's mother was employed at Szaboda's farm at nearby Lazzalotte.

Fort Covington, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—A 28-year-old man was killed yesterday when he fell into a hay baler on his farm on the outskirts of this Franklin county community.

Thomas D. Black had climbed to the top of the baler to make an adjustment. He lost his balance and fell into the machine. Coroner A. Pierre Spaulding said Black died of a broken neck and strangulation.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—The State Commerce Department's business index for the month of June held at 127 points, equalling or exceeding the marks for the five previous months of the year.

Non-agricultural employment rose for the sixth straight month to 5,974,000, about 42,000 more than May, the department reported yesterday. However, the total was still 25,600 below that of June, 1953.

The department reported construction led the June business advance with finance and retail trades closely behind. Factory production and wholesale trade dipped slightly.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—William E. Swerdfefer, 83, was injured fatally yesterday when he was pinned against a garage wall by a car operated by his wife, police said.

Ogdensburg police quoted Mrs. Loretta B. Swerdfefer, 67, as saying her husband got out of their car to open the garage doors. Mrs. Swerdfefer told police she did not see her husband and became excited and pushed hard on the accelerator, smashing into a concrete wall and pinning her husband.

He died in Hepburn Hospital a few hours later.
